Question for Altadena Wild: Is there an alternative plan for the property? What else would you suggest the Nuccios do with the property?

19:26:14 From Shawna Dawson Beer to Sarah Wolf, Altadena Wild:

Please be sure to share all of the ways the community can get involved and support you in the Beautiful Altadena groups.

19:29:44 From Ellen Walton:

With a project of this size in a relatively pristine SEA, I think it is reasonable to demand an EIR, not a mitigated Neg Dec.

19:30:54 From Sarah Wolf, USGBC CA:

Replying to Ellen Walton:

We are preparing for an EIR and are already identifying our own experts.

19:30:57 From Daniel Harlow:

Has vector control looked at the programs to control Aedes via the sterile release program? Other local cities are doing this?

19:34:36 From Ellen Walton:

How does Vector Control coordinate with Public Works Building and Safety to address stagnant pools on vacant properties?

19:34:54 From Sarah Wolf, USGBC CA, replying to Shawna Dawson Beer:

We need volunteers to help at outreach events, help with admin support, marketing/fundraising support, writing letters and making public comments (at the appropriate time). We also need help with documenting wildlife (photos, videos, iNaturalist). Email altadenawild@gmail.com for more info.

19:36:51 From Shawna Dawson Beer to Anais Medina Diaz, SGV Mosquito & Vector Control:

Are there any plans for spraying as Pasadena has been doing?

19:38:46 From Anais Medina Diaz:

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to email me at amedinadiaz@sgvmosquito.org or share your information with Nic. Thank you for having me!

19:43:39 From Sarah Wolf, USGBC CA, replying to "Question for Altadena Wild":

You can read about the alternatives here: <https://www.altadenawild.org/a-better-idea>. Should the Poly deal fall through for whatever reason, there would be opportunities for land conservation, conservation plus lease-back, a small housing development, etc.

19:46:38 From Ellen Walton:

What does UWS do about residents who leave waste bins in the street all the time to block parking in front of their home?

19:53:05 From CSHEPPARD:

Leaving carts in the street beyond the service day is prohibited by Public Health Code and is enforced by Public Health. You can contact us at 1-888-CleanLA, and we will make the referral to Public Health or you can contact them directly.

19:54:42 From Elizabeth Z:

If you haven't signed up for a bear-resistant cart(s) for your home, please visit the Public Works/UWS webpage: Bear-Resistant Cart Program for UWS Customers in Altadena/Kinnetoa Mesa
<https://pw.lacounty.gov/epd/swims/Residents/BearResistantCartProgram.aspx>

19:55:02 From Daniel Harlow:

UWS questions

1 - We have had reports of long lead times still to get carts replaced or repaired. Any updates on this specifically, such as what is the expected time for delivery: days? weeks?

2 - All the trucks were supposed to be brand new if I understood the contract. Why are there already maintenance issues with them?

3 - Can you publish the customer service email on the website? In the past it has been the best way to get an issue resolved.

20:06:31 From JB, replying to "Question for Altadena Wild":

Since the Nuccios would like to sell the property and retire, I think "opportunities for land conservation," etc. are inadequate financially. This is not fair to them. If we do not want the development that has been submitted, I really think there should be something more concrete offered as a more acceptable situation for both sides.

20:13:25 From Sarah Wolf, USGBC CA in reply:

I agree, the Nuccios should be compensated fairly for their property. My understanding is that while their property is in "escrow" with Poly, other buyers can't step in.

20:13:45 From Daniel Harlow:

Only the UWS customer service form and the info@ email is what I could find. The direct customer service email was much better in terms of response.

20:14:08 From Casey Cowan Gale:

In a large windstorm, people who live on a "street" put the windblown green waste at the curb and it gets picked up in addition to their regular green waste bins. Those of us who live up the small winding lanes with the jitney pickup don't have that option, and we have to stockpile the branches and leaves for weeks because they don't get picked up outside of our regular green waste bins. Can UWS pick up our additional green waste after a windstorm, or do we have to drag it all out to the street for the county to pick up?

20:20:25 From Jon Hainer & Deb Halberstadt:

UWS, would you like to hear an example of what is bad about your customer service?

20:20:43 From JA Pomroy:

I'm not sure we can ask a PW administrator to opine about breach of contract in this forum. Perhaps an attorney from County Counsel should be asked that question.

20:27:57 From Shawna Dawson Beer:

Anyone who'd like to is welcome to contact me directly: dawson@saucela.com and at beautifulaltadenaog@gmail.com
